

Guidelines for a Target Archery Unit Portfolio

For this unit, you will complete and submit an archery portfolio, in which you provide evidence of your knowledge, skill improvement, and skill performance level. To collect documents for evidence during the unit, you will participate in assessments that are integrated with learning and practice activities, complete individual projects throughout the unit, and file results from all of these activities in your working portfolio folder. Be sure to record your artifacts in your record log. Later, you will make judgments about which artifacts show your improvement and constitute your best work as you determine what to include in your evaluation portfolio. You should organize your portfolio based on your artifacts, to provide evidence of the following:

- Your knowledge of target archery equipment, purchasing information, repair, and storage
- Safety rules that must be followed when shooting with a group (in class or outside of class), alone, or with a friend
- How to aim at a target with and without a bow sight at various distances
- Knowledge of and demonstration of the critical elements of the shooting stance and process: stance, grip, nock, draw, anchor, aim, release, and follow-through
- Ability to identify errors and corrections you can make in the critical elements of the shooting process
- Evidence of your competence in the shooting process

Your evaluation portfolio will be submitted on the final day of the archery unit. Your portfolio will be evaluated using the portfolio rubric, which can be found on the second page of this handout.
