Make a dot on the target where each of the six arrows lands for each end of the round. Look for a grouping or pattern (e.g., left of the center circle, right of center, at the top of the target, at the bottom of the target, or scattered with no pattern).

1. Identify a pattern and discuss what errors you might be making in your stance, grip, nock, draw, anchor, aim, release, or follow-through to cause the arrows to be grouped as they are.

2. Discuss how you can correct the errors you identified in your response to question 1.
