

Designing a Portable Trifold Display Board to Show and Promote Behaviors

Physical activity professionals who do not have access to a room or gymnasium and want to post information on behavior management can use a portable trifold display board. Display boards are an economical way to post information such as rules, motivational slogans, or student of the week and levels of self-responsibility and folders with reinforcement stickers, tokens, and certificates. More information on the methods used in implementing a portable trifold display board is in chapters 3 and 5. What follows are some portable trifold display boards that have been designed by teachers and students with examples of information and items that can be posted.

1 From B.W. Lavay, R. French, and H.L. Henderson. 2016, Positive behavior management in physical activity settings web resource, 3rd ed. (Champaign, IL: Human Kinetics).

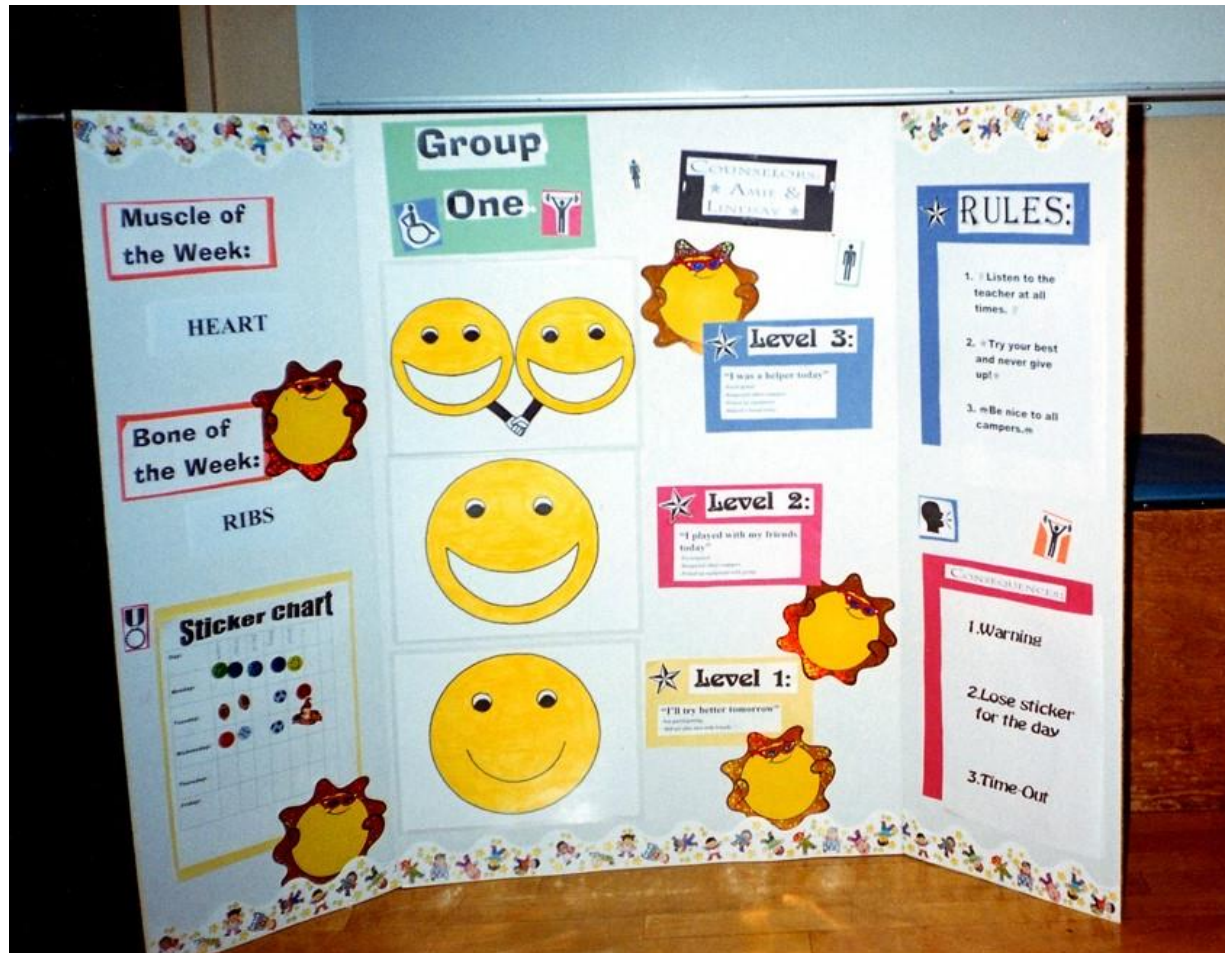

Design portable display boards that incorporate fun motivational themes, such as Ride the Wave to Success.

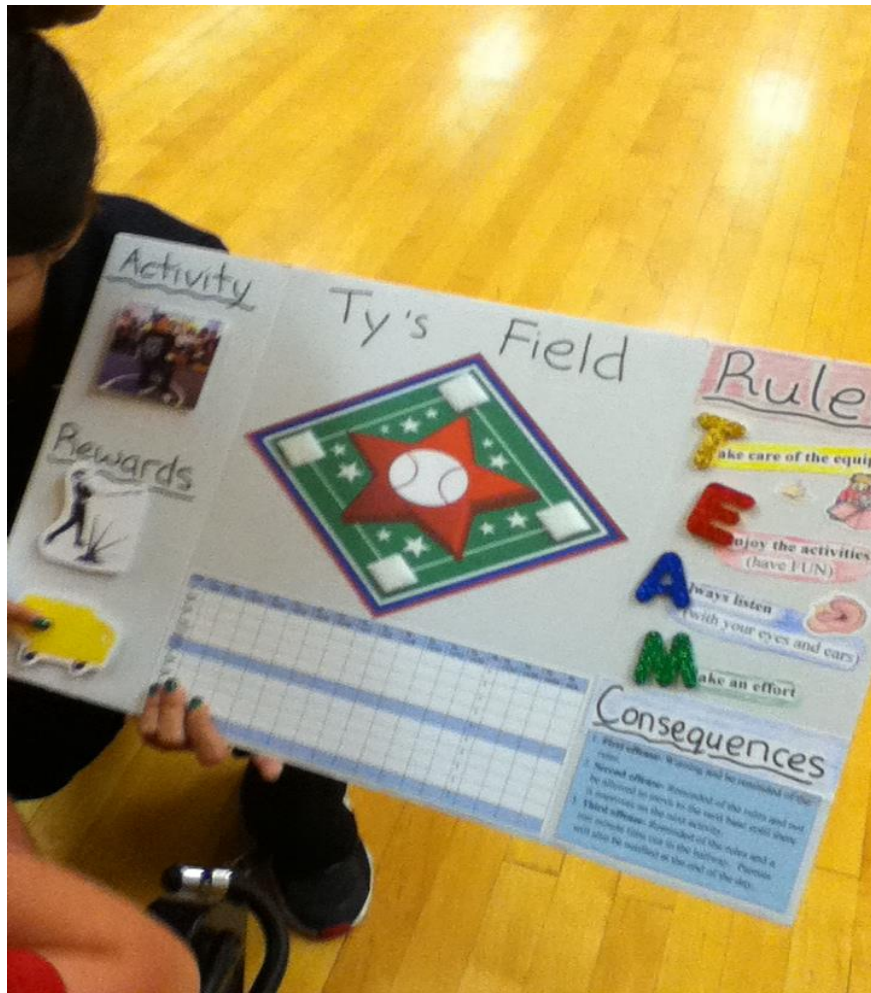

- 3 From B.W. Lavay, R. French, and H.L. Henderson. 2016, Positive behavior management in physical activity settings web resource, 3rd ed. (Champaign, IL: Human Kinetics).

Design portable display boards that are age appropriate.

This board is for children 5 to 7 years of age.

Design portable display boards based on students' interests. For example, this board is for a child who is motivated by baseball.

- 5 From B.W. Lavay, R. French, and H.L. Henderson. 2016, Positive behavior management in physical activity settings web resource, 3rd ed. (Champaign, IL: Human Kinetics).

Create ways to mark behavior progress, such as moving your car along the road to learning.

Create ways to mark behavior progress by using clothespins.

Are the levels of responsibility too complex? Simplifying the levels of responsibility will make the steps easier to implement and the participants more likely to understand.

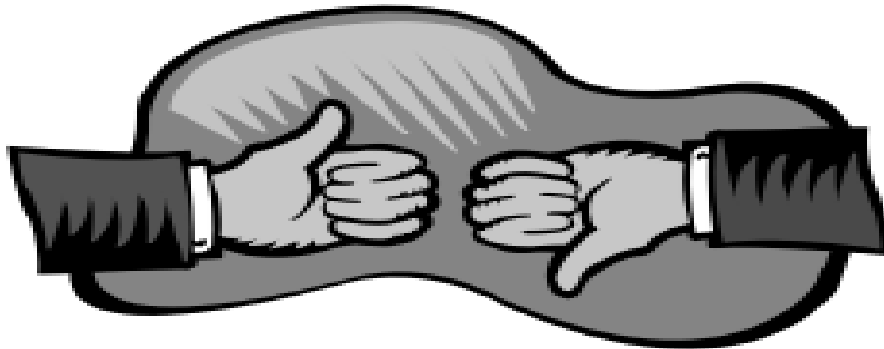

1. Did not participate
2. Participated
3. Helped others

Or

1. Unacceptable
2. Acceptable

Or

Thumbs up and thumbs down

Reflecting on behavior: Use a system of green, yellow, and red lights.

At the end of each session participants tell, point, or show the instructor how they are doing.

